EDITOR'S NOTE

Welcome back, everyone! It feels so good to start a new year together, and I'm thrilled to return as your Editor-in-Chief for BTB's Journalism Club's Spotlight. The first weeks of term have already been filled with laughter, energy, and new beginnings—and this issue is all about celebrating that.

From the buzz of meeting new faces to the joy of reuniting with old friends, the school has come alive again in the best way. It's been inspiring to see how quickly we've all jumped back into clubs, sports, and projects, making this term not only productive but also full of fun and memories.

Through this issue of the Spotlight, we hope to capture those moments and share the spirit of our community with you. Here's to more stories, more achievements, and more reasons to smile as the year unfolds.

TWO DECADES OF EXCELLENCE: BTB SCHOOL CELEBRATES 20 YEARS

By: Kenneth N. Susanto (10C), Jocelyne B. Suryadi (11E), and Nadine O. Sudjarwo (11N)

Twenty years of developing wisdom.

Bina Tunas Bangsa School has reached its immense milestone this year - the 20th foundation day.

In celebration of this significant event in the journey of BTB School, Mr Yudo Prima Cahyadi, the school's Foundation Chairman, together with the principals, Ms Meliana (Early Childhood and Primary School) and Ms Namrata Paul (Middle and High School) led the teachers and staff in commemorating the day the school was founded.

Looking back, twenty years ago, a bold move was made on September 2, 2005 when Bina Tunas Bangsa School was established by a visionary Ibu Laviana Kurniawan with a vision and mission to provide high-quality international education to the students in Indonesia. Her vision and dedication have greatly impacted the school's remarkable journey and progress.

During the early years of BTB School, the number of students per class was still very small: with some classes having fewer than 10 students. Initially, BTB only planned to open two classes for each grade level. Eventually, the number of students has continued to grow steadily over time. Today, the Primary School has four to five classes per grade, while the Middle and High School almost have the same. This reflects BTB School's steady growth and development from its humble beginning to becoming a trusted choice for many families.

WHAT BTB CLASSROOMS USED TO LOOK LIKE

BTB CLASSROOM AT PRESENT

Throughout the years, BTB School has achieved significant milestones. It has been authorized for International Baccalaureate) Diploma Programme, certified as a Cambridge Examination Center and has always achieved a high score for accreditation from the Ministry of Education.

In response to the popularity and increasing number of students, BTB School expanded by opening its second campus at Pluit Putri in 2023, marking yet another significant step in its commitment to growth and providing an excellent teaching and learning environment for its students.

As a token of appreciation, the school has gifted all BTB students a souvenir item - a BTB Knights United mascot - which represents strength, courage and unity, serving as a reminder to the learners that they are a part of the school's journey, carrying the values of honor, responsibility and commitment.

A STEP CLOSER TO GLORY

By: Regina E. Tan (11C) & Jocelyn Hauw (11D)

This year, the BTB Knights' rigorous training and relentless efforts paid off as their run in the DBL - the most prestigious and competitive basketball tournament reached new heights unlike ever before. Our school community came together to show immense support, flooding the venue in navy blue.

BTB KNIGHTS UNITED AS SUPPORTERS AT TRIBUN

The arena buzzed with anticipation as the crowd gradually filled the seats, their chatter growing into a unified roar. Inflatable cheering sticks of orange and blue clapped in rhythm, echoing across the stands like thunder. On the court, players loosened up with sharp passes and smooth warm-up shots, each basket met with cheers. As the light dimmed slightly, the starting lineups strode confidently onto the floor.

The atmosphere reached its peak as both teams gathered at the center court, ready for the jump ball. Off they went, shots one after another landed, winning us 96:11 in the boys 5x5 playoffs. Not to mention, our 3x3 players advanced to the semi finals after scoring 8:7 on their first game, and 7:3 on their second.

DANCE CLUB PERFORMING FOR AZARINE DANCE COMPETITON

The dance club expressed their passion on the court through a mesmerising dance routine, dressed in beautiful costumes and dazzling stage makeup, boosting spirit and morale amongst players and spectators alike, while consequently leaving the opposing audience entranced. The 5x5 girls basketball team were also on a roll, knocking SMAN 115 Jakarta out of the competition with a 14:11 victory.

On a particularly rainy afternoon, three consecutive semi-final matches took place, coincidentally facing off against the league giants SMA Jubilee Jakarta. The 3x3 boys team had their fixture early in the day, with a score of 8:10. Through digital streaming services, the entire school cheered for the 5x5 girls team, who suffered a devastating loss. The last match of the day was the 5x5 boys basketball team, arguably the most anticipated matchup throughout the whole tournament. The stands were filled with the BTB students, teachers, parents, and staff who roared with support through the neck and neck match, which unfortunately ended in a 37:70 loss.

MID-MATCH GROUP HUG!

Though all our teams fell short in the semifinals, their determination and morale never wavered. They left everything on the court, showing grit, teamwork, and passion that made us all proud. This year's run surpasses last year's, marking real progress and setting the bar even higher. With the lessons learned and the fire still burning, we believe the Knights will return even stronger, hungrier, and ready to push past their limits in the seasons ahead.

WORLD SCHOLAR'S CUP: SEOUL GLOBAL ROUND

By: Kenneth Nathanael Susanto (10C), Justin Huang (10C), Luo Jia Sheng (10D)

Waves of cheers erupted from the auditorium of Seoul's Art School Theater, filling the room with excitement. It is the 26th of July, and the opening ceremony of the World Scholar's Cup is about to commence, giving us a glimpse on what the upcoming days might hold.

After a quick lunch, participants were divided into a multitude of teams for the Scholar's Scavenge. Each team set off to Lotte World's grandiose amusement park, completing quirky and fun tasks while laughing with new friends and riding the attractions.

INSIDE OF LOTTE WORLD THEME PARK

After the last and final academic event, scholars sat and enjoyed what was called the Scholar's Show, where scholars from all parts of the world displayed their talent (or un-talent). Whether it was an electrifying song or a TikTok dance, scholars laughed and clapped all the way through.

WSC DEBATE SHOWCASE

On the next day, participants would head to Seoul Arts High School for the main event: Team Debates, Collaborative Writing, and Scholar's Challenge. From day to night, scholars partook in fierce debates, wrote incredible essays, and wracked their brains in a 120 question multiple choice test.

The day after was packed: with the first event being the Scholar's Bowl. Scholars entered the Arts School Theater and grabbed their clickers before sitting in their assigned seats. Joyful screams could be heard across the theatre for those who got the right answer, and silence for those who got it not quite right.

ALPACA PLUSHIES GIVEN TO EVERY SCHOLAR!

WORLD SCHOLAR'S CUP FLAG-RAISING CEREMONY

The next and final part of the events at the theater was the Debate Showcase, an event where 8 specially curated speakers have the opportunity to go onstage and showcase their debating prowess.

At night, scholars took a well-deserved break and entered the doors of the Swiss Grand Convention Hall. Throughout the night, the room erupted with laughter, joy, and astonishment as scholars experienced cultures from all four corners of the world through food, art, and games.

On the final day in Seoul: 29 July, scholars enjoyed one more movement of the Scholar's Show at Arts School's Theater before moving on to the finale of the events. After the conclusion of the flag-raising ceremony, the awaited closing ceremony finally began. Cheers erupted and claps were omnipresent in the theatre. Scholars ran up the stage to receive their well-deserved medals, and a few were awarded with trophies and other insignias of achievements. As the top 20 teams were announced, students were seen crying tears of joy and hugging each other and their mentors.

BTB KNIGHTS COACHING CLINIC WITH MARIO WUYSANG: DRILLS, DEFENSE, AND DETERMINATION

By: Ace H. Khie (9D)

From August 19-21, 2025, BTB Knights held a dynamic basketball coaching clinic led by Indonesian-American basketball legend Mario Wuysang, known by many as "Uncle Roe." As one of Indonesia's greatest point guards, Mario Wuysang brought more than a decade of experience and a passion for coaching.

At the clinic, 22 students participated in fun and challenging drills. The session began with ball-control practice. Then, students worked in pairs to pass and dribble. Mario Wuysang's approach was encouraging and patient. He never punished students for making mistakes, but rather, he encouraged students to treat them as learning opportunities.

MARIO WUSYANG COACHING

Mario Wuysang also promoted friendly competition. One drill had students compete on each side of the court, taking turns as offense and defense. The offensive player aimed to score under pressure, while the defender worked to block or contain them. This exercise not only encouraged students to challenge each other but also helped improve footwork, scoring instincts, and defensive skills in a competitive, game-like setting.

In an interview, Mario Wuysang said his journey was, "Amazing, grateful, and full of obstacles." He explained that being shorter than other players made him work harder and never give up. He also said coaching is not easy, it must come from the heart.

For these young athletes, the clinic was more than training, it was inspiration. Mario Wuysang's message was simple yet powerful: work hard, keep trying, and never be afraid to fail.

BRINGING CLASSROOMS TO CRATERS

By Callysta N. Bella (9G)

From September 15 to 19, 2025, students took part in an unforgettable field trip to Malang. For five days and four nights, the group shared experiences filled with fun, teamwork, and exploration that brought the community closer together.

The adventure began with an early train ride from Gambir Station. Laughter and excitement filled the journey as students shared meals on board and prepared for the days ahead. By evening, they arrived in Malang and checked in at Jambuluwuk Hotel, exhausted but eager for what was to come.

IN FRONT OF MUSEUM SATWA IN JATIM PARK 2

JEEP RIDE TO MOUNT BROMO

Day two brought students to Coban Talun, a renowned nature and adventure destination. Activities included ice-breaking sessions, team-building games, and exciting challenges that strengthened collaboration and communication. A lively and intense paintball game, along with outbound activities kept spirits high before the day closed with dinner at Royal 360 Restaurant.

On the third day, participants experienced the breathtaking landscapes of Mount Bromo. Traveling by jeep, they will explore iconic sites such as Bukit Widodaren, Kawah Bromo, Pasir Berbisik, the savanna, and Bukit Teletubbies. This day focuses on the natural beauty and cultural heritage that make Malang a special destination.

Nearing the end of their trip, the group explored Jatim Park 2, where the Batu Secret Zoo and Museum Satwa offered both learning and laughs. Students captured memories at selfie spots and later shopped for souvenirs at Gudang Oleh-Oleh before enjoying a farewell dinner at Arbanet Kitchen Café Lounge and finally boarding the train back to Jakarta. They spent a long night in the train before arriving back at Gambir Station on September 19th, concluding their journey.

This field trip to Malang successfully combined fun and learning, giving students the chance to strengthen friendships, develop teamwork, and appreciate Indonesia's cultural and natural wonders. It proved to be much more than sightseeing; bringing together adventure, education, and connections in ways that will remain long after the journey ends. Along the way, students not only discovered new places but also built stronger bonds with classmates and teachers, learned to collaborate, and experienced Indonesia's beauty firsthand. For many, it became a journey of growth, laughter, and will remain to be an experience treasured for years to come.

STUDENT COUNCIL ELECTION, CAMPAIGN AND INVESTITURE CEREMONY

By: Hu Zheng Jie (9D) & Nathanael Leonardus Sanjaya (9D)

From the campaigns and the elections, all the way to the investiture ceremony, BTB school Pluit Putri experienced a vibrant week of student participation during the first few weeks of the school year. This event allowed students to take part in a democratic society in which they can choose their own representatives while also providing an opportunity for students to run and experience the role of a leader.

VOTING FOR STUDENT COUNCIL 2025-2026

As the announcement was made, five teams answered the call as the campaign period began when the school opened the registration and proposal submission, where candidates that wanted to run for president and vice president will work together to craft new ideas and propose them to the student body on a later date. A total of five pairs submitted their proposals on 28th of July, which were later reviewed by our principal Ms Namrata Paul and the vice principal Ms Novy, who selected two teams out of the five through a three-day process, from July 29 - 31 through multiple activities such as proposal presentation, student record check and team interview.

After this screening process, two students from two different parties were chosen and then given a period of five days from August 1 to 5 for their campaigns with multiple activities such as classroom visits and speeches in the auditorium, trying to convince the student body to elect them.

As the deciding day finally arrived, the election itself took place on 6th of August. Voting was carried out under the supervision of teachers as all the students from grade 9 to 12 participated, ensuring that every voice in the school community was represented in the final results. After the votes were counted, the winners were announced a day after through the announcement speaker, marking the beginning of their new responsibilities as members of the Student Council.

When the investiture ceremony, which finally took place on August 8th, was held, it was at the Bina Tunas Bangsa School Pluit Putri sports court, with the presence of the Principal, Vice Principal, teachers, and students. The Principal, Ms Namrata Paul, addressed the importance and role of student leadership in promoting discipline, responsibility, and school spirit. Each of the newly elected members was called to receive their pin and tie, as the symbol of their role and commitment in serving their fellow students and the school.

The highlight of the ceremony was when the council members pledged to carry out their duties with integrity, dedication, and fairness. This moment reinforced the seriousness of their responsibilities and their commitment to working for the benefit of the student body. The event concluded with the closing remark from Ms Paul, signifying the importance of student leadership.

MARCHING, MUNCHING, AND MUSIC: BTB CELEBRATES INDONESIA'S INDEPENDENCE DAY

By Mikhaela O. Lie (9D)

PEMIMPIN UPACARA

On the morning of August 18th, 2025, Bina Tunas Bangsa School Pluit Putri held its annual Indonesian Independence Day celebration to commemorate the 80th anniversary of Indonesia's independence. The event began with the traditional flag-raising ceremony, led by Mr. David and Ms. Novi, at 7:30 AM. Students, teachers, and staff gathered in the school's sports court to participate in the ceremony, honoring the nation's struggles for freedom.

Following the ceremony, after a snack break, both students and teachers enjoyed a series of fun games games. The games, held from 9:30 AM to 11:45 AM, included traditional Indonesian games such as the "Bakiak Race," which involved teams of five players racing to a designated line while wearing oversized wooden sandals, and the "Cracker Eating Contest," where participants tried to eat crackers hanging on strings without using their hands. Other games that were held were the "Tray Race", "Hula Hoop Game", and "Pencil in the Bottle".

CRACKER EATING CONTEST

To keep the energy high, the sounds of "Dangdut Gen Z," a modern twist on Indonesia's traditional dangdut music, played throughout the duration of the games. The music, beloved by both the young and old generations, created an upbeat atmosphere that resonated with the students as they cheered on their peers, dancing and singing to the melodies.

The celebration concluded at 11:45 AM, marking the close of the morning activities. Students then returned to their regular class schedule for the remainder of the day. The small event offered a well-needed break from all the school work, as well as commemorating our country's independence.

BTB KNIGHTS UNITED SPORTS DAY 2025

By Danna M. M. Hidalgo (10N) and Tanisha Pandey (10N)

On 22 August 2025, Bina Tunas Bangsa School Pluit Putri came alive with cheers and excitement as students gathered for the annual Sports Day. From tug of war to team competitions, the event brought together pupils from grades 9 to 12. They celebrated not only athletic achievements, but also the values of teamwork, discipline, and spirit.

SPORTS DAY TORCH CEREMONY

On 19 August 2025, basketball and futsal preliminary rounds were held to determine the leaderboard. These matches built lots of excitement in the school, with players giving their all and teammates showing strong support from the sidelines. By the time the main event arrived, everybody was filled with anticipation to find out the winner.

Both courts came alive as players gave their all. In basketball, the ball moved swiftly between players in a series of sharp passes and confident shots, while in futsal, quick footwork and teamwork kept spectators and crowds invested. The crowd cheered with positive spirit, the players displayed their skill up to their fullest potential, making the finals thrilling to watch. The tug of war was introduced on the day itself, and quickly stole the spotlight. Students gathered eagerly to watch the battle of strength and unity, while lively commentary kept the atmosphere vibrant.

The first-ever cheering competition kicked off the day on an exciting note. Each team gave an incredible performance despite having three periods to practice. The Green Dragons amazed the crowd with cartwheels. The Blue Sharks impressed everyone with their SpongeBob-inspired routine. The Red Eagles energized the floor with a dance and chants combo. The Yellow Tigers showcased their powerful voices. Students also enjoyed testing their skills with board games like chess and Scrabble. In the Relay Run, the winning team received loud cheers from students and their House Masters.

YELLOW TIGERS' CHEER PERFORMANCE

BLUE SHARK'S BOYS TUG OF WAR MATCH

Another highlight was the E-sports event, where Mobile Legends players competed on the big screen in the auditorium, cheered on by a packed audience. Next up were the eagerly awaited games between students and teachers in basketball and futsal. Both boys and girls put in great effort. Even the principal, Ms. Paul, joined the girls' basketball match, drawing wild cheers from the crowd. The commentators kept everyone entertained with their funny remarks, making the games feel like a mix of competition and comedy.

E-SPORTS COMPETITION: MOBILE LEGENDS BANG BANG

SPORTS DAY PODIUM WINNERS

Finally, as the podium was set up, students lined up in their house colors, chanting for their teams: "Go Green! Go Red! Go Blue! Go Yellow!" The winners were announced: the Green Dragons took first place, followed by the Blue Sharks, the Yellow Tigers, and the Red Eagles. Confetti fell as the winners were celebrated. The day wrapped up with brief remarks. Sports Day concluded with smiles, cheers, and confetti. Now, who's already counting down to next year?

NEW FACES, NEW SPACES: FIRST IMPRESSIONS OF BTB'S NEW CAMPUS

By: Charlotte Emily Tan (9G)

PLUIT PUTRI'S LOBBY ENTRANCE

In my 14 years of living, almost half of my life was spent in school. Education is a big aspect of life, and it makes us the people that we want to be. Never in a million years would I have thought of the privilege of going to BTB school. It has been an amazing 9 years that I am forever grateful for to this day. Ever since I heard that BTB school is going to open another campus a little over 2 years ago, I was always curious to know what it looked like and wondered what the new campus life feels like, knowing it was, of course, going to be more advanced and newer than the Pluit Timur campus.

Finally, the day has come, the 23rd of July, the first day of school. To be frank, I was a bit upset that the long holiday had come to an end, but at the same time, I could not wait to see my friends again after so long and on the new campus. My first steps here will always remain remarkable; I was so amazed by the new facilities that this campus has. The classrooms look good as new, and new faces of unfamiliar students and teachers add to the experience. I believe that this new campus is such a great place to spend my high school years.

THE BARE NECESSITIES WHY DISCIPLINE SAVES US FROM CLASSROOM CHAOS

By Novrelya Clara Sidik (12C)

Let's face it: our classrooms can resemble stand-up comedies more than class sessions. You get students running in late because they were "stuck waiting for the lift", or secretly gaming underneath their tables, and of course, the incessant noise that gets the teacher to say something ten times louder than normal. Throw in the "forgot my homework" excuse and a couple of daydreamers looking at the ceiling rather than the board, and you get instant pandemonium. Fun to observe, perhaps, but not quite so much when you consider all that is being wasted in terms of learning time.

That's where discipline comes in. It is not being over-strict or making school feel like a boot camp, but ensuring that everyone gets a chance to actually learn. Try to focus when half of you are gossiping, playing games, or sauntering in late. Discipline is that "mute button" that we all wish we had—it just keeps everyone quiet so lessons can actually take place. When people do follow rules, teachers do not spend their time struggling to manage anarchy, so they get to instruct us in things that we actually do need to learn. And discipline isn't for teachers' benefit alone. It's for our benefit as well. Submitting homework on time, listening, and not being extremely raucous are all considered to be boring, but it is these same things that we'll need to do when we're adulting down the road. If you can't learn to listen in class or meet deadlines for homework, just think about how hard it'll be when you actually do have real deadlines when working. Discipline is essentially preparation for being a considerate adult who doesn't fall apart with just one problem.

Class discipline makes everyone's lives simpler. Nobody's saying that we can never have fun, but it's all about getting it at the right time. If we are disciplined, then we would learn better, save our teachers' gray hairs, and might even enjoy class more. Discipline is no joke-maker, but wait and see—it's that single ingredient that prevents our classrooms from being circus acts all twenty-four hours of the clock.

THROUGH GILDED EYES
PEER PRESSURE: FRIEND OR FOE?

By Rychelle Z. Tan (12N)

Peer pressure is a significant social factor that affects teenagers during their school years. It can be characterized as the influence exerted by friends to encourage individuals to alter their beliefs, values, or actions to conform with the group's expectations. Walking down the school hallways, you'll easily recognise the way students dress, the slang they use, and even the music they are listening to in their headphones. Much of it is not just personal taste, but is shaped by influence from peers. But is peer pressure always bad? Not necessarily.

As teenagers, one of our strongest desires is to belong. The need for approval can feel overwhelming, and friends may start to have more influence than parents. For this reason, people may engage in activities they wouldn't typically choose, laugh at jokes they don't find funny, or mimic someone else's style. Avoiding rejection seems to be more important than the act itself.

When we think of peer pressure, the negative aspects often come to mind first. Many teenagers acknowledge that they acted primarily because "everyone else was doing it," whether it was cheating on tests or experimenting with drugs. According to research, teens are more likely to engage in risky behaviors—such as careless driving—when their friends are around. These decisions may have long-term effects on one's confidence and daily habits.

However, peer pressure can have beneficial effects as well. You're more likely to put in more effort in your studies if you surround yourself with determined classmates. If you join a sports team, your teammates may encourage you to be more disciplined. This is also how kindness spreads; if a friend volunteers or confronts bullying, it may inspire others to follow as well. When applied properly, peer pressure can be a source of support and development.

Learning how to deal with peer pressure is the true challenge, not avoiding it. Staying true to your principles and saying "No" often does not result in the loss of friends, but rather, earns their respect. At the same time, it's easier to remain loyal to yourself when you choose friends who bring out your best qualities. After all, you are who you surround yourself with, meaning the people you spend time with have a significant influence on your identity.

Peer pressure is not just a weapon that lurks in adolescence. It's a powerful tool that can either drag us down or lift us up. The real question here is: which direction will you let it push you?
